SAGITTA

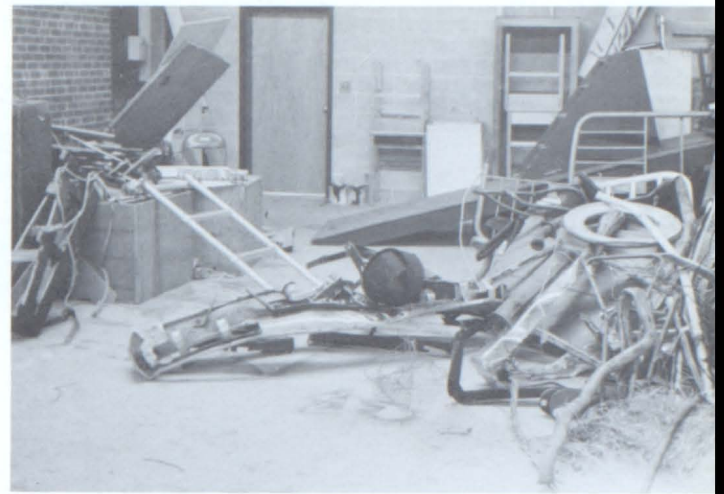

*Presented By
The Class Of 1975
Suffield High School
Suffield, Connecticut*

We are to regard the mind,
not as a piece
of iron to be laid upon the
anvil and hammered
into any shape, . . .

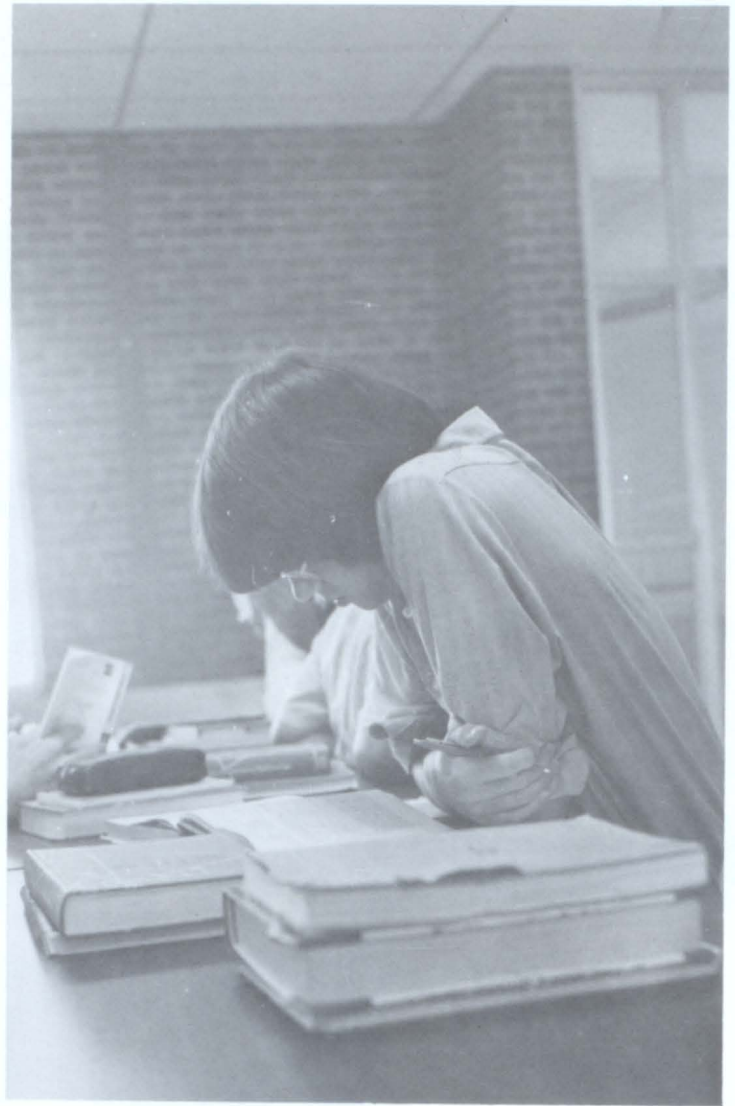

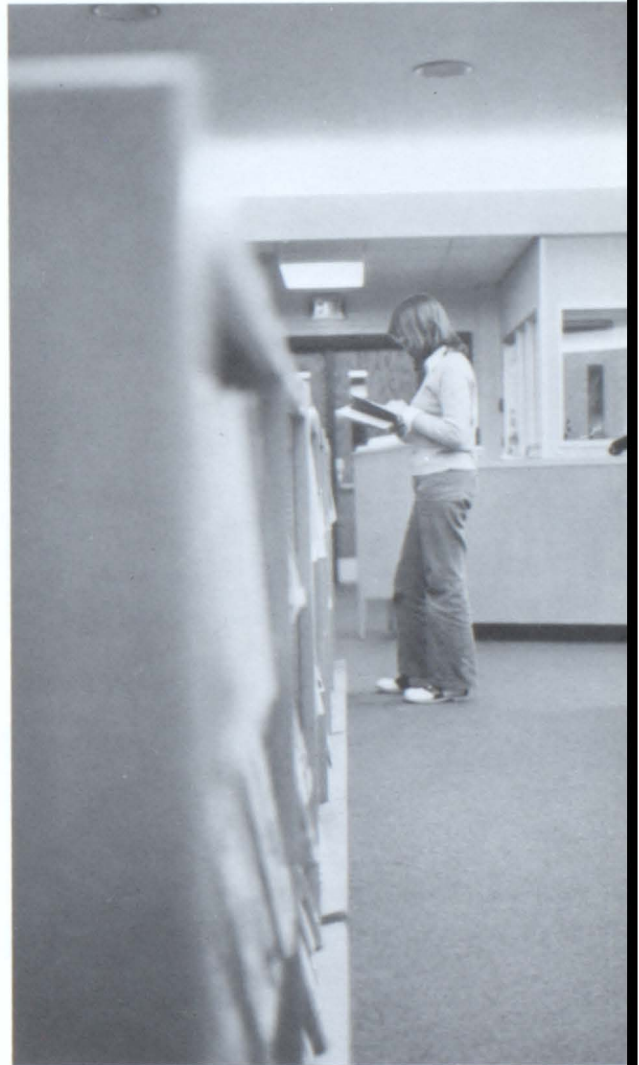

... nor as a
block of marble
in which we are to find the statue by removing the rubbish, ...

... nor as a receptacle
into which knowledge may be poured;
but as a flame that is to be fed; ...

as an active
being that must be strengthened
to think and
to feel — and to
dare, to do,
and to suffer.

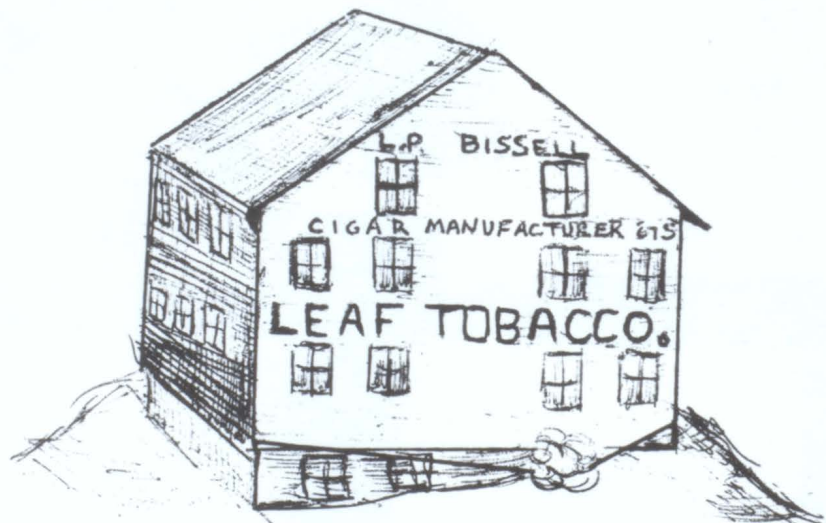

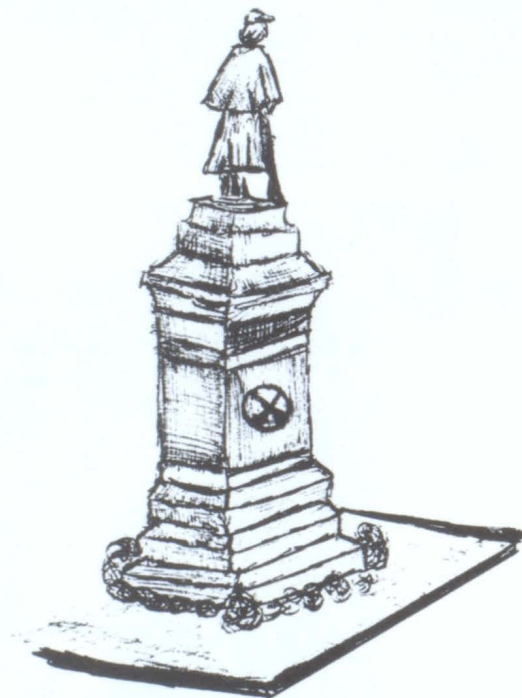

DEDICATION

We dedicate this yearbook to Suffield;
a place of solitude, memories, and beauty,
a sanctuary in the fast-paced metamorphosis
of the world.

APPRECIATION

In appreciation to our class advisors who: stayed with us through mounds of papier mâché, eleven boxes of Kleenex, four years of sore throats, gained their share of pounds by consuming record breaking amounts of chocolate bars to boost sales, waded through miles of magazine receipts and adding machine tapes.

Thank you for sharing our heartaches, trials, and triumphs through the past four years.

CLASS PROPHECY

We come back to Suffield in 1985 and find it a teeming metropolis of 12,000.

We first come to the High School which has expanded to 900 students, who are flooding through the lobby. Having fought our way through the crush, we move on to the music room where we find Bob Adams, who has taken the baton from Mr. Tanguay, conducting the training band, as it is Friday.

We hear a ruckus from across the hall on the stage, and we recognise Lucy Dunn, the new drama teacher. We find, in talking to her, that Kathy Graham has made her Milan engagement a success and Cindy Bonavia is running the Suffield Players. The drama class will soon be going to see Betsy McCarty in the revised version of Over There, which Cathy Potter is directing on Broadway.

Further on down the hall, head custodian, Bill Cerri, is replacing a plate of glass-by the smoking room-naturally. We drop by the faculty room and there among the old guard, we find some of our former classmates: Debbie Harrison is the new special education teacher. Lynn Kennedy, the librarian, sipping tea and reading Tolstoy, and Julie Hedden, the Calculus 20, Math 71 and Geometric Functions teacher. Laurie Glowacki, the art teacher is painting a mural on the ceiling, on her back in practice for her trip to the Sistine Chapel. Jim Seger is in the IBM room trying to "fix the damn thing" while Eileen Rossetti the music teacher, is visiting from the middle school. High above David Billings, in his twin-engine plane, is taking ariel shots of old Suffield, while his co-pilot, Jackie Caron, is screaming around town, "Pilot to co-pilot". In the new Suffield Medical Center, which was designed by Greg Pelletier and Bill Petronella, we find Tom Chapdelaine, teaching a bunionectomy patient how to walk again, with his faithful assistant Patty Kirkland by his side. Lori Becker and Debbie Lenentine are nursing like crazy, and Tracy Geary is out on the ledge of a window coaxing a suicide patient not to jump. Sue Kasanowski is considering putting a knife under a patients bed to cut the pain in two, while her assistant Debbie Hartwell hands her the knife. Stan Kasanowski is analysing neurotics, and in the next room Bev Edmonds is asking, "How long have you had this problem?" Further down the hall Steven Fischer is in surgery performing a lobotomy. Frank Firor's name can be heard periodically over the loudspeakers: "Calling Dr. Firor, Dr. Frank Firor.", while Richard Liana is merrily cleaning incisors. Carol Genaro is found in one of her many capacities, asking a patient to smile during an x-ray; Donna Wersaukas is bringing her children to pediatrician Elaine Zaczynski, and Karen Carnevale is seen rolling an intravenous stand down the corridor. Maria Danise and Debbie Miskin are busily typing out Rx's while Nancy Tefft handles the Rehabilitation Department.

In the veterinary field Mary Ann Putkowski is asking Lassie to politely shake hands, while Mark Stevens issues a distemper shot.

In and around the world: Geoff Sullivan can be found in the French Foreign Legion, riding through Constantinople on a camel; his yashmak rippling seductively in the breeze. Bob Reynolds is in seclusion in his laboratory on Pike's Peak while Chris Parent is heavily engaged in Peace talks, trying to prevent WW III. Lori Grigitus is whistling "Anchors Aweigh" while swabbing the deck, as Marcia Crous, Hiedi Hovey, and Janet Graczewski are being chased around their desks by their respective bosses while Marcia Burel sits outside getting the inside story to put in her scoop column of the city paper. In another part of town, David Lawson is having an interview with National Lampoon Editor Ken Kraus about new up-and-coming issues. Jon Hall is making a fortune as a commercial artist as is Clyde Birbeck as he draws cartoons for the New Yorker magazine.

Across the globe, Carolyn Rapacki, while attending Paris Community College was voted resident Polka Queen. In the same city Kathy Lownds is painting in Monmartre and Sandy Markowski is a graduate student at the Sorbonne.

In the fashion world Karen Koseski is modeling for Twenty Seven, the new fashion magazine. Gina Christian is working at the Beauty Bar at Foxes and Karen Bennett is selling Leslie Wilkins originals at Van Law's — Now Van Bennett's. Jackie Blanchard is managing her own beauty salon where Janet Fiore is making people's hair "stand on end." Judy Hubbard is president of the PTA at the school her children attend and Tanya Coppollo is teaching "I'm a Little Teapot," to her second graders. The DiLorenzos, John and Mark, leave for the office while Cathy Spaulding, Leon Theriault and David Maiolo audit a prominent citizen's income tax. Sue Dalglish can be found finger painting with "the kids."

In the great outdoors; Jeanette Breault can be found among the tropical ferns in her nursery. Keith Colturi is shinnying up pine tree after pine tree. Dennis Doyon, at twelve feet tall and still growing, on the other hand needn't shinny at all, all he has to do is reach. Mark Winkler is roaming the back roads of Vermont while Glenn Waterman is communing with the birds and the bees. Peter Calcasola is seen among the sequoias and Sherry Supple is frequently found organizing squirrels and chipmunks in a game of Blind Man's Bluff; as park supervisor. Mark Bulgier we have heard is camping for the winter atop Mount Everest. Cheryl Kolvek is marching off to Quarry Mountain with pick in hand to search for fossils, while Guy Begin is taking soil samples at Sunrise Park. Terry Fiore, we understand daily answers the question of "How much is that doggie in the window?" Mark Hill is whittling away on still another totem pole, while Shirley Hinckley continues laughing all the way. Nancy Huling has now expanded her repertoire to 435 instruments. (She plays them all at once, too.)

Ed Matusko is a master cabinet maker and Nick Watts, the carpenter, and Mike Germain, the plumber, are the richest men in town. Steve Lindquist's feet can be seen from underneath his car while Mike Thresher ponders over whether a monkey wrench will do it. Brent Cramer is doing a "bondo" on his car, while Mitch Czerpak, the master chef, is stirring things up in the kitchen. Down at the police station, we find Kathy Morgan giving a lie detector test while waiting for a call for a report from FBI agent Cindy Taylor on location in Casablanca. Next door fire chief Brian MacLeod is answering calls, while out at sea Brad Sheldon, Mark Small, Ron Nichols, and Jean Stafford are walking on the bottom scooping up plankton while Jon Sorrow of the Seabees cruises above them.

As the sun sinks slowly into the horizon, we think of the class of '75 which once hallowed the halls of Suffield High.
